REAL COLORS®
PROGRAM IMPACT REPORT

In 2014-2015, Kenosha County UW-Extension provided the Kenosha County Aging and Disability Resource Center with a series of seven Real Colors® workshops (see right).

Real Colors® is a temperament theory that helps people understand human behavior, allowing them to recognize, accept, and value the differences in others, leading to better communication.

A total of 44 ADRC staff members participated in the Real Colors® temperament assessment, with an average of 14 participants in each of the follow-up sessions.

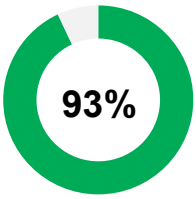
WORKSHOPS

- Real Colors® Temperament Assessment
- Real Colors® & the Work Environment
- Real Colors® Addressing Change & Conflict
- Real Colors® & Supervisors
- Real Colors® & Communication
- Real Colors® & Time Management
- Real Colors® & Teams

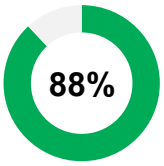
As a result of Real Colors® Workshops, participants reported:

More aware of my own strengths

Improved communication with my team



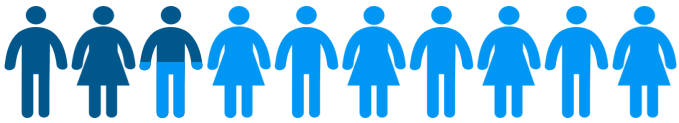
More aware of my supervisor's and colleagues' strengths



Improved relationships with my team

"It's been very beneficial for me to understand myself better…
It allows me to be more conscious of the tendencies associated with my non-dominate colors and challenge myself to bring them to the forefront more often."

100%



of participants have used the skills they learned,
including 25% who have used them "a great deal."

Kenosha County UW-Extension
19600 75th Street, Suite 2, Bristol, Wisconsin 53104
Ph: 262-857-1945 • Fx: 262-857-1998 • http://kenosha.uwex.edu

An EEO/AA employer, Kenosha County University of Wisconsin-Extension provides equal opportunities in employment and programming, including Title IX and Americans with Disabilities (ADA) requirements.

UW Extension
Kenosha County