Spring Leadership Training Series 2017

April 27, Real Colors

May 10, Generations

May 31, Communication and Conflict Management

June 7, "Improv" and Reflections

Where:
Lac Courte Oreilles Ojibwa Community College
Time:
From 12:00 PM – 4:00 PM

Cost for all four sessions: $85 light lunch provided!

Real Colors, Personality Style
April 27, 2017

What is Real Colors?

- You will learn how colors concepts impact our communication in a variety of situations you face every day
- By practicing these concepts you can improve your interaction methods with others
- With the addition of this knowledge, your ability to communicate and understand the strengths and perspectives of individuals with colors different from your own will improve significantly

Communicating Across Generations
May 10, 2017

- Is designed to help participants recognize the descriptors that define a generation and identify the forces that shapes their attitudes, beliefs, expectations, and worldview.

Communication and Conflict Management
May 31, 2017

- Learn Responsible and effective communication skills
- Look at conflict at its various stages
- Understand the impact of differences on conflict
- Become comfortable with various conflict styles and resolution methods

Instructors:
Real Colors: Amber Marlow and Ariga Grigoryan
Communicating Across Generations: Amber Marlow and Ariga Grigoryan
Communication and Conflict Management: Amber Marlow and Ariga Grigoryan
"Improv": Lori Baltrusis
Reflections: Amber Marlow and Ariga Grigoryan

"Improv" and Reflections
June 7, 2017

- In this session you will be exposed to thinking outside the box and different ways to approach a problem solution
- This session will reflect what you have learned from the program and have fun!

Call to register by April 22, 2016!

Make Checks Available to LCOOCC

For more information or to register contact:

Ariga Grigoryan
715-638-3295
ariga.grigoryan@ces.uwex.edu

Amber Marlow
715-634-4790 Ext 156
marlowa@lco.edu

CEU (Continuing Education Unit) and a certificate will be provided!