

The following is a listing of "green" architects and builders, as well as solar, PV, geothermal and wind installers and consultants in Wisconsin's Driftless Area. Many are members of the Midwest Renewable Energy Association (MREA). Others are members of the Blue Heron Natural Builders Guild (BHNB) or Green Squared Building Association (GSBA), a group of builders, architects and designers, building material manufacturers, contractors, consultants and other interested individuals devoted to promoting more energy-efficient and earth-friendly buildings in the River Valley area. For a statewide list of builders, suppliers and other resources, check out www.the-mrea.org.
