Formula for completing this book:

$$\text{Average Daily Gain (ADG)} = \frac{\text{Gain}}{\text{Days in the Feeding Period}}$$

Example: 200 pounds gains / 86 days = 2.33 ADG

Example: 600 pounds of feed / 200 pounds gained = 3 pounds of feed for each pound gain

$$\text{Feed Cost / Pound of Gain} = \frac{\text{Total Feed Cost}}{\text{Gain}}$$

Example: Feed Cost $110 / 200 pounds gained = .55 (for each pound of gain, feed cost 58 cents)

Goal Setting

A goal is a statement that reflects something you aim to accomplish within your project. Remember this is your Meat Animal Project Record Book. Please consider that your goals should be aimed at accomplishing something relate to the Meat Animal Project. For example wanting to improve your showmanship skills may be something you want to do at the fair, but it is not directly related to the reason you are enrolled in a Meat Animal Project. Consider the project as a whole and work to write goals that look at the industry and the product you are looking to produce.

Your goals should reflect something you want to improve on or learn about. Without goals, it is almost impossible to move forward. Goals are set to help define the path that needs taken for success.

Well written goals follow a format. S.M.A.R.T. is one of the formats that can help you write an effective goal. S.M.A.R.T is an acronym that stands for five qualities your goals should have.

S=specific, M=measurable, A=achievable R= relevant, and T=timely

Write at least two goal statements you have for your project this year:
